

INFRASTRUCTURE DESIGN ENGINEER

JVA has an opening for an Infrastructure Design Engineer to join our Infrastructure team in our Boulder office. We are seeking a highly motivated person with a passion for engineering excellence. Flexibility and desire to work on multiple projects is essential.

As part of JVA's thriving Infrastructure team you will work with mindful, experienced engineers who are devoted to sensible and conscientious problem solving for a wide range of projects across Colorado from rural farm towns to mountain projects, to big city developments. We provide the necessary tools, support, and training to assist our employees in providing technically competent, high quality service to clients. Our professional culture values sound judgment, creative thinking, and design sensitivity.

JVA is active with CRWA, RMWEA, AWWA, CASFM, DBIA and the U.S. Green Building Council, and several JVA engineers are LEED Accredited Professionals.

Responsibilities
