CIVIL DESIGN ENGINEER

BOULDER, CO

As part of JVA's thriving Civil Engineering team you will work with mindful, experienced engineers who are devoted to sensible and conscientious problem solving for a wide range of projects across Colorado from rural farm towns and mountain projects, to big city developments. We provide the necessary tools, support, and training to assist our employees in providing technically competent, high quality service to clients. Our professional culture values sound judgment, creative thinking, and design sensitivity.

We are seeking a highly motivated, like-minded professional with client experience and a passion for engineering excellence in site design in the field of civil engineering to join our team. Flexibility and desire to work on multiple projects is essential.

JVA is active with the U.S. Green Building Council, and several JVA engineers are LEED Accredited Professionals.
